

STRIT
IRONIC WIT

As adults, it's hard not to take ourselves too seriously in the midst of overscheduled, busy lives. Strit is reminding us of the importance of humor, wit and irony. His mobile legs, arms, torso and head can move in any number of configurations – from delight to concern, and anything in between – reminding us to reexamine and reconfigure our point of view.

Strit's lower body and feet are made out of oil treated teakwood, his upper body of beechwood and his hair from sheep fur.
